LETTER FROM CEO

Dear applicant

Thank you for your interest in the Director of Fundraising and Communications role. The enclosed job description and person specification will tell you about the job and detail the kind of person we are looking for. Additionally, you will find our website <https://www.imjp.org> a useful source of information about our mission and ministry to Jewish people.

Over the past 8 years, it's been my privilege to serve as CEO of International Mission to Jewish People (IMJP) and I am encouraged by the immense growth we have seen as an organisation. We have a single focus; to take the Good News of Jesus the Messiah to the Jewish people. And this focus is creating more opportunities to spread the gospel among the Jewish people and so generating greater interest in our work - and more support. This new Director of Fundraising and Communications is key to that continued growth and you will play a pivotal role in both raising funds and communicating about the work that we do.

IMJP is wholeheartedly committed to bringing the Good News of Jesus back to the Jewish people from whom it came and ensuring that the Jewish people's need of the gospel remains on the radar of the Church. This was why we came into existence nearly 200 years ago; to preach the gospel to Jewish people and to help them become followers of the Messiah Jesus. This senior role will be pivotal in ensuring that we communicate our vision effectively, with passion and to a wide audience.

If you believe IMJP is an organisation in which you would be happy to serve, a cause you can champion, and if the position fits your skills, values and experience, then we would love to hear from you. Details of how to apply are at the end of this information pack.

If you would like more information about this new and exciting role, you can contact Tracy Madgwick or Hayley McDonald of Action Planning's Recruitment Team, who are managing the recruitment process for us at tracy.madgwick@actionplanning.co.uk

Thank you for praying about and considering this role. Please pray for us as we seek God's wisdom and guidance for appointing the right person to the post.

Kind Regards,

Joseph Steinberg
CEO

ABOUT INTERNATIONAL MISSION TO JEWISH PEOPLE

IMJP has been at the cutting edge of cross-cultural mission since 1842 and was formed by people with a vision and passion for the salvation of the Jewish people. Originally the British Society for the Propagation of the Gospel among the Jews (BJS), the Society was founded at an inaugural meeting in Regent Square, supported by British evangelical leaders such as Robert Murray M'Cheyne and the great Baptist preacher Charles Haddon Spurgeon.

The Holocaust brought the work of Jewish mission in Europe to a grinding halt but through the heroic efforts of Rev I E Davidson, of the Barbican Mission to the Jews (later part of CWI), over a hundred Jewish children were air-lifted from certain death in Nazi-occupied Europe. A significant number of those children became believers and of those who came to faith, a high proportion went into Christian ministry.

As the work expanded, in 1965 the mission became the International Society for the Evangelization of the Jews (IJS) and eleven years later, in 1976, joined with the Barbican Mission to the Jews, founded in 1879, to become Christian Witness to Israel.

Nearly 200 years after it came into existence, International Mission to Jewish People is still at the cutting edge of cross-cultural, multi-cultural, international and interdenominational mission to the Jewish people, sharing the Good News that the Messiah promised through the ancient Jewish prophets has come, and his name is Jesus.

IMJP is on the threshold of yet more exciting change as we seek to respond to the challenge and commission taken-up by our founders to proclaim Jesus as Messiah and Lord to Jewish people today.

FUNDING

We are a mission that, in faith, depends on God and his people to provide for our needs. The Mission seeks to raise funds by making its work known through public meetings and Christian events, as well as print and e-media.

Members of staff, especially our missionaries, do a lot of the work on the ground by presenting the work of the Mission at churches and Christian fellowships, and through the Mission's publications.

Current and historical financial and associated information can be found in the Trustees' Annual Report & Accounts, available on the Charity Commission website at <https://register-of-charities.charitycommission.gov.uk/charity-search/-/charity-details/271323>

You can find more information about what we believe and teach in our brochure "Who we are, What we do and What we believe" which is being sent to all candidates under separate cover.

ABOUT THE ROLE

This is an exciting time to be joining IMJP. In 2021, we asked an external organisation to review how we might achieve a step change in our fundraising which allow us to increase our reach. This new role of Director of Fundraising and Communications has been created as a result of that review.

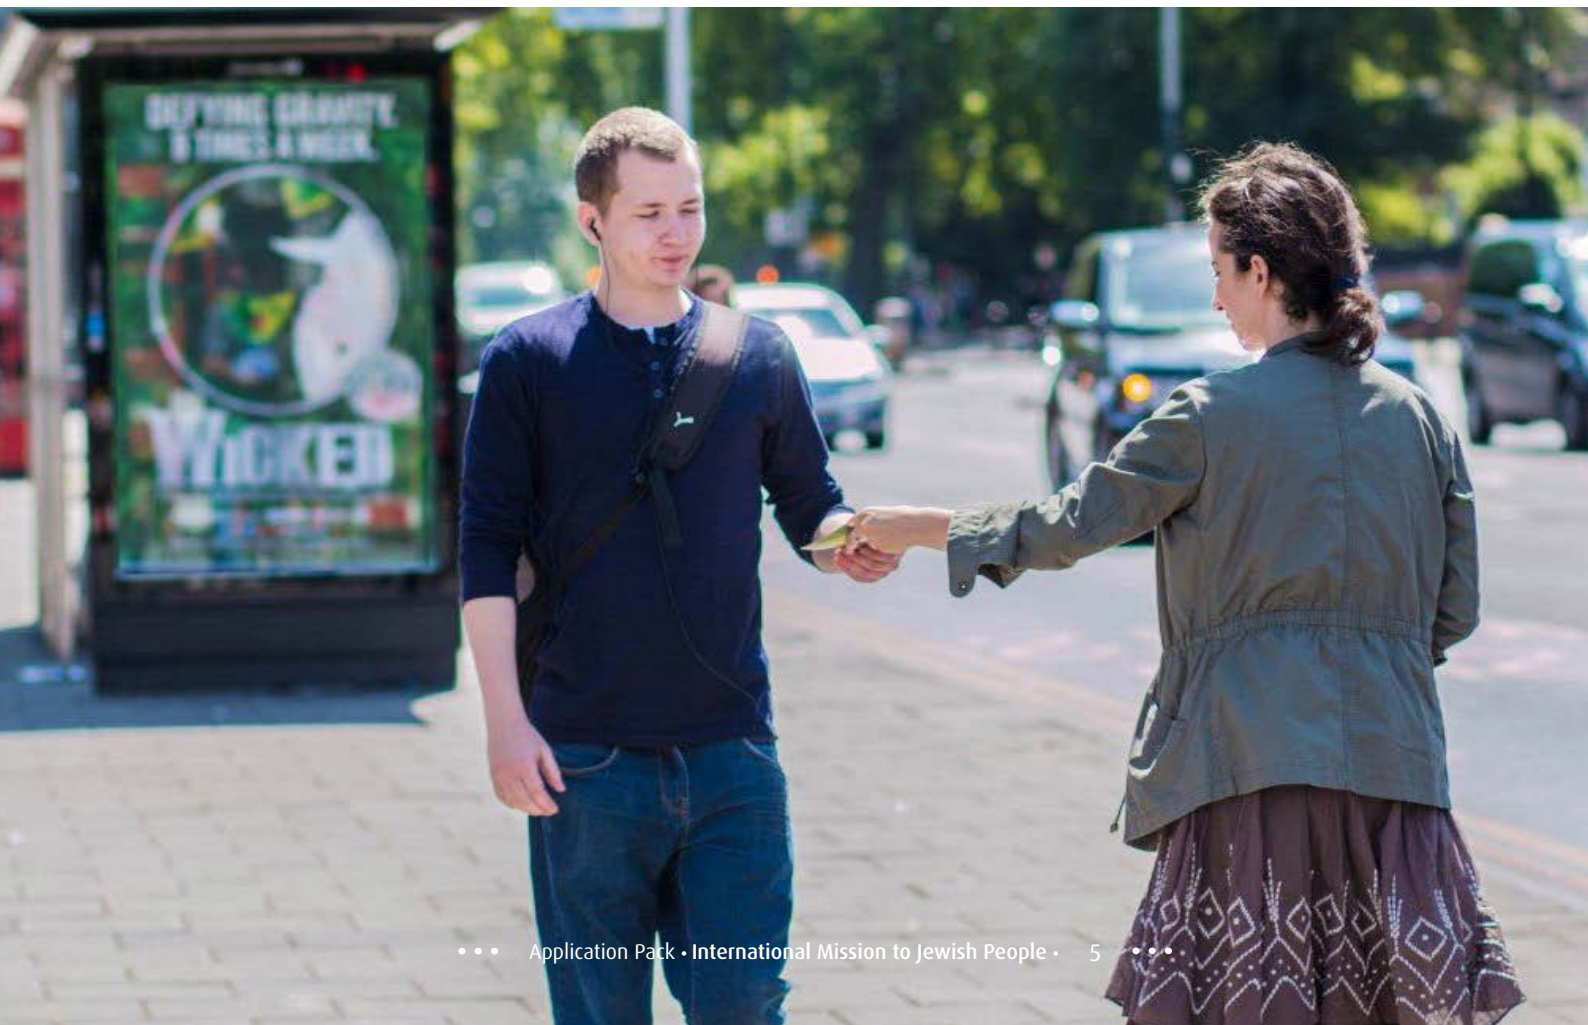

We are pleased to say that we have already achieved significant financial growth. Since 2014, when Joseph took over as CEO, our annual income has grown from approximate £700k per annum to over £1,250,000. As such a niche organisation, this is quite an accomplishment and yet shows us that there is so much more we can do to grow and expand our work. As we keep our focus on our singular calling to tell Jewish people about Jesus and make that need known among Evangelical churches and Christians across the UK and beyond we are confident we can continue to grow.

Most of the new income we have seen generated has been from already existing supporters. Our aim for this new role is to find ways to broaden our support base and grow the number of churches and Christians who hear about and support our work. Another aspect of this role will be to find ways to help our missionaries engage with their own individual fundraising strategies so that they can reach their fundraising targets. 20% of their work week has been earmarked for this exciting opportunity.

Despite the economic challenges the UK and the world faces, we have found our income remains strong. Our singular focus and the results we are seeing in Jewish people coming faith in Jesus provide a strong platform to showcase our work. These will provide an excellent opportunity to encourage churches and Christians that God is at work through us. Therefore, we can make the case that our missionaries and their activities are a wise and sound investment in his Kingdom work.

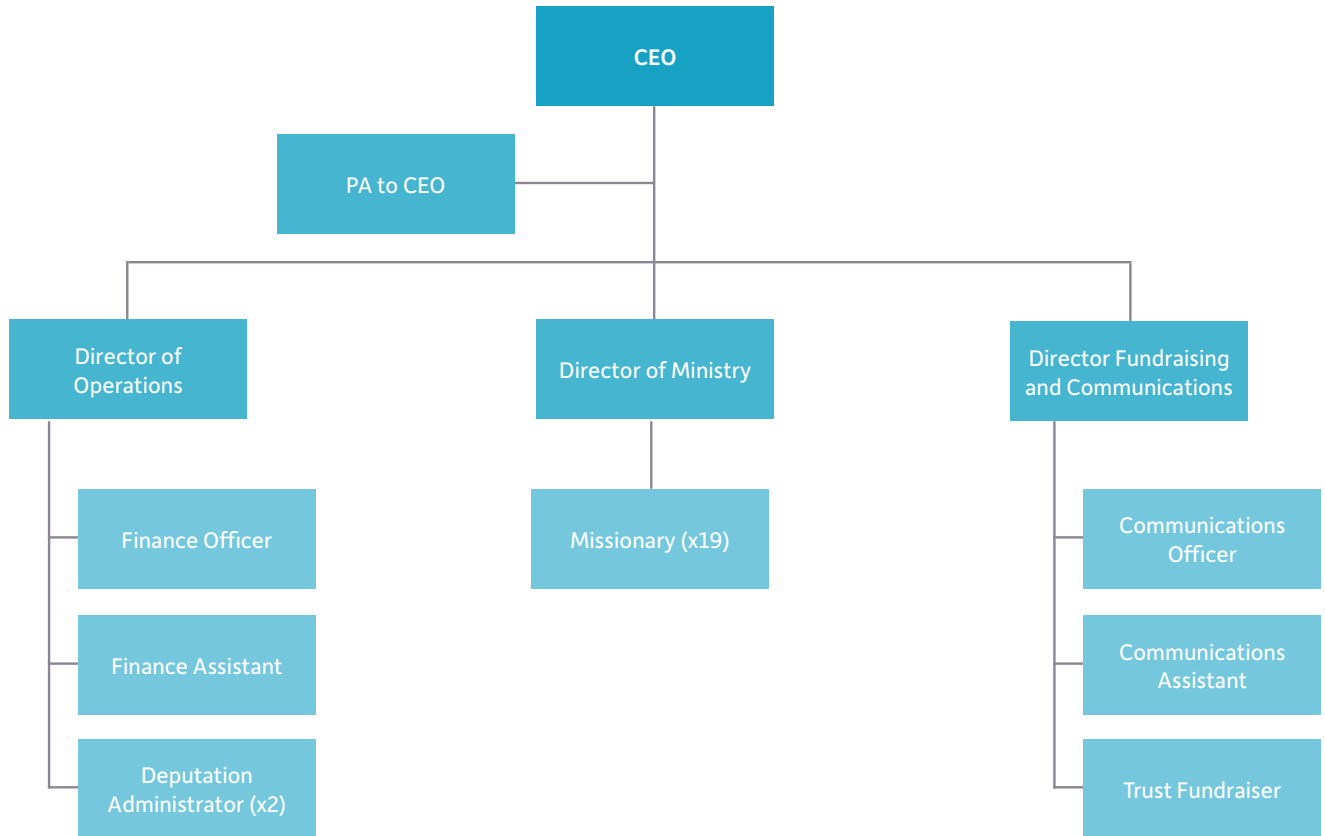

We believe there is so much more we can do to grow our support network and income. Are you the one to help us?

11. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) is the primary photosynthetic pigment in most plants and algae. It is a green pigment that absorbs light energy in the blue and red regions of the visible spectrum. Chl a is located in the thylakoid membranes of chloroplasts. It plays a central role in the light-dependent reactions of photosynthesis, where it transfers energy to other pigments and eventually to the reaction center, where water is split and oxygen is produced.

JOB DESCRIPTION

ROLE PURPOSE

The Director of Fundraising and Communications is a key senior member of International Mission to Jewish People (IMJP) and will work closely with the CEO to deliver ambitious fundraising targets. This is a new role, and the successful postholder will have the opportunity to shape and develop the role to meet the needs of the mission.
